

Melissa & Sandra Dance Drunk!

THE HEAT ★ June 28

DIRECTOR PAUL FEIG LEARNED A LESSON from Melissa McCarthy and Sandra Bullock: Don't tell your leading ladies how to dance. He had hired a choreographer to help the comic duo (who play FBI agents) with a scene in which they get blotto in a bar, then bust a move. "But they wanted to be in the moment," he says. So they improvised: "They did all these goofy dances. They were saying, 'Freeze!' and 'Sexy freeze!' It was awesome."

Us reveals behind-the-scenes secrets from the season's hottest flicks. Pass the popcorn!

The Baby's Back

THE HANGOVER PART III ★ May 24

Remember the infant Zach Galifianakis carried around in a BabyBjörn in 2009's The Hangover? Several newborns shared the role, including Grant Holmquist, who made the poster (inset). Now 5, Holmquist reconnects with Galifianakis in the second sequel. "He's not an actor, but he seemed cool," says director Todd Phillips. "It was great to have him back."

The duo shot for two weeks at the internet company.

They Nap at Google

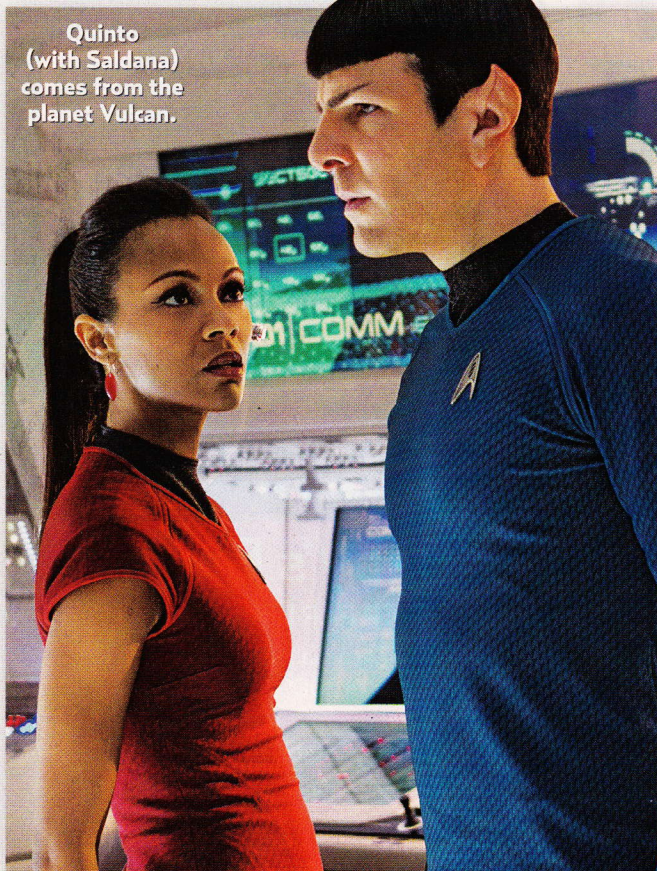

THE INTERNSHIP ★ June 7

Owen Wilson and Vince Vaughn hit "restart" as technophobic salesmen who become Google interns. Director Shawn Levy tells Us about filming on the perk-packed Mountain View, California, campus. Sleeping on the job "They have nap pods. The guys would get shut-eye between takes." Free lunch "They loved all the complimentary food for staffers — from sushi to smoothies." Good sports "They played beach volleyball against actual Googlers. It's in the trailer!"

Zoë Is in Danger!

STAR TREK INTO DARKNESS ★ May 17

Don't know the difference between a phaser and a photon? Cowriter Damon Lindelof breaks down all the Enterprise-ing terms for Us.

Phaser guns "You can kill people, or you can just stun them — like if you're not particularly mad at someone but need to take them out for a bit. It is a very humane way of dealing with your enemies!"

Warp core "That's the engine that allows them to go superfast. But it's constantly overheating."

Photon torpedo "That's the big-mama-jama weapon. You use it only when you're in serious trouble."

Beaming "As in 'Beam me up, Scotty!' When you're being chased, you say, 'Beam me up.' You disintegrate, then reappear. It's a practical way to travel — and you don't even have to take your shoes off."

Color-coded uniforms "Captain Kirk [Chris Pine] wears yellow. That's command. Mr. Spock [Zachary Quinto] is in blue. That's science and medical. And Uhura [Zoë Saldana] dresses in red. That's engineering and security — the most dangerous job. If you're in red, the likelihood of dying is much higher, unfortunately."

Chan Has a Daughter

WHITE HOUSE DOWN ★ June 28

DAD-TO-BE CHANNING TATUM IS ALREADY ACTING like a playful pop. While shooting his role as a cop protecting the U.S. president, "we pranked people together off camera," says Joey King, 13, who plays Tatum's daughter. "I kept a spray bottle up my sleeve, then I pretended to sneeze and we sprayed people!" She tells Us more.

Q: Were your pals jealous you worked with him? My sisters and friends were like, "Oh, my God!"

Q: How else did you spend downtime on set?

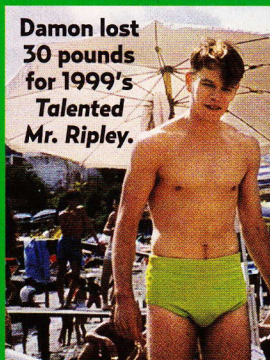

We'd sit on our phones and try new apps — like Temple Run. And we gave each other pet names: His was Unicorn; mine was T-Rex.

Q: His baby is due this summer. You excited? Yes! His wife, Jenna [Dewan-Tatum], is so sweet. When I see them together, I'm like, "Aww!" He'll be a great dad!

Brad Is Married!

WORLD WAR Z ★ June 21

NOBODY KEEPS BRAD PITT WAITING. TO AUDITION for the role of his wife in the zombie flick, "I drove like crazy from Vancouver to L.A.," says The Killing's Mireille Enos, 37. She talks to Us.

Q: A meeting with Brad! Was it intimidating?

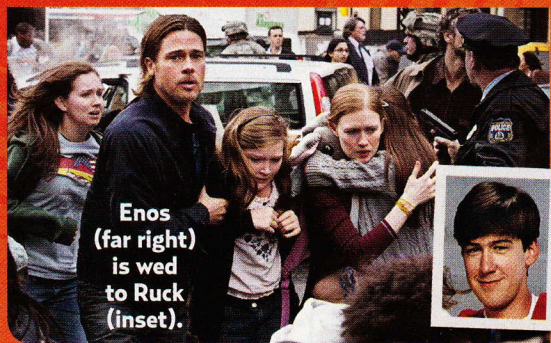

No! He was so relaxed and easy and sweet.

Q: Did you hang out with Angelina Jolie on set?

Oh, yes. It's clear they really support each other.

Q: In 2008, you wed Alan Ruck [56], Matthew Broderick's pal in Ferris Bueller's Day Off. Nice! I grew up on that movie and had a big crush.

I met him in New York — and got to marry him!

Rihanna Gets Rowdy

THIS IS THE END ★ June 12

Apocalypse now! A galaxy of stars play themselves in a comedy about the world's end. Codirector Evan Goldberg shares his favorite scenes.

Mindy Kaling

"She loved doing stunts — and filming her death."

Jonah Hill

"In one moment, he asks Seth Rogen if he's a B-cup."

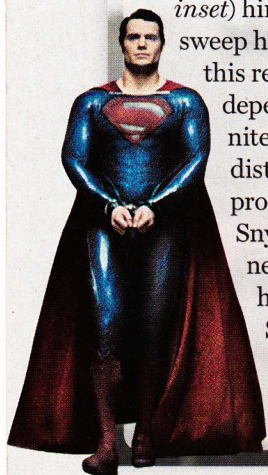

Rihanna

"She slaps Michael Cera hard! His ear rang all day."

Amy Overhauls Lois Lane

MAN OF STEEL
June 14

AMY ADAMS' MODERN Lois Lane isn't looking for a guy — including Superman (Henry Cavill, inset) himself — to sweep her off her feet in this reboot. "She's independent and definitely no damsel in distress," explains producer Debbie Snyder. "And she's never afraid to get her hands dirty." Snyder fills Us in on the no-nonsense newswoman.

"Lois' apartment is small and kind of a mess," says Snyder.

SHE FIGHTS WITH THE BOSS

"Lois is patient, but she argues with her Daily Planet editor [Laurence Fishburne]. It's a constant battle of wits."

SHE PREFERS BUSINESS CASUAL

"She's an investigative reporter, so she dresses practically. In one scene, she has to fly, so she wears a flight suit."

SHE'S CELL-OBSESSED

"She works for her paper in the present day. There's social media and blogging, and she's always checking her phone."
